

QUALITY CHARTER

NEWDEAL INSTITUT

Our training center is based on a simple and effective organisation that promotes transparency, exchange and communication with our trainees.

Our values:

The French as a foreign language class is considered a place of intercultural encounters and encourages moments of exchange and sharing between the students. Our French courses adhere to fun and effective pedagogy.

Our commitments:

Newdeal Institut is committed to offering French as a foreign language teaching to all international students in order to optimise their linguistic and cultural integration in their daily lives and in their preparation for university entrance.

Reception

Learners are welcomed by a team that speaks French, English, Spanish, Chinese and who are always available, courteous and attentive.

Response to a request for information by email is made within 48 hours.

Students have the opportunity to issue claims and evaluate the services of the school through an online form and satisfaction questionnaires submitted at the end of the session.

The pedagogy

All teachers are qualified and experienced in the teaching of French as a foreign language. Teachers focus entirely on the students and teach in a communicative and action-oriented way.

The offered courses refer to the official levels of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.

Students are divided into groups of up to 12 people per level.

At the beginning of the cycle, the learners have an individual interview to define their course.

At the end of the cycle, learners receive an assessment booklet and have the opportunity to take an exam. (DELFI / DALF / TCF)

The school

Courses are held on the premises which are equipped with modern language teaching methods.

Learners have free access to the resource center where they can find books, various publications and workstations in order to work independently.
